

SANDRIZONA

Spring 2009

Where the Desert Meets the Ocean

May 11, 2009

9am-5pm

Linguistic Anthropology Lab, 340 SSRB (formerly CRB)

A day for scholarly exchange between graduate students interested in issues of linguistic anthropology at the University of California, San Diego and the University of Arizona – the first in what promises to be an ongoing series of meetings and workshops!

Event Schedule

- 9:00-9:30a Coffee and bagels with Opening Remarks
- 9:30-10:05 Thea Strand (Arizona): “Ideologized Imitation: Policing a Local Dialect through the Ironic Use of Normative Linguistic Forms”
- 10:10-10:45 Tamara Jackson (UCSD): “Rounds and the Construction of Fair Turn-Taking During Children’s Play”
- 11-11:35 A. Ashley Stinnett (Arizona): “Circulation and Multivocality in ‘Blood Talk’”
- 11:40-12:15p Elizabeth Peacock (UCSD): “The Intersection of Content and Social Organization in a Discussion of Out-migration”
- | | |
|---------------|---|
| 1-2:30 | Keynote presentation: Dr. Norma Mendoza-Denton (Arizona):
“Stance Triangulation among Latin American Immigrants to Spain;”
“The Biomechanics of Language and Gesture” (with David Raichlen) |
|---------------|---|
- 2:45-3:20 Lori Labotka, & Bryan James Gordon (Arizona): “Sampling in Experimental Anthropology: Bringing Together Gender Socialization and Gesture Performance”
- 3:30-4:05 Melanie McComsey (UCSD): “Learning to Take a Stance: Socialization and Stancetaking in the Negotiation of a Conflict”
- 4:10-4:45 Mary Good (Arizona): “Super Smart or Super Sexual? Language Ideology, Code Choice, and Gender Identities among Youth in the Kingdom of Tonga”
- 4:45-5p Closing Remarks

Sponsored by the Department of Anthropology, UCSD; the Department of Anthropology, University of Arizona; UCSD Linguistic Anthropology Laboratory; and the UCSD Graduate Student Association